Date: 28 October 2011
Venue: Blue 5.1.01
Time: 1-2pm
Presenter: Prof. Tim M. Berra
Title: Chasing Nurseryfish and Avoiding Crocodiles in Northern Australia

Please register for the seminar at:

Abstract
This 50 minute seminar details the life history of Kurtus gulliveri, a bizarre fish from the Adelaide River. The males carry the eggs on a hook on their head like a bunch of grapes. The lecture features 110 slides, CT scan movies of weird anatomy, and video of jumping crocodiles.

Prof. Tim M. Berra is Professor Emeritus of Evolution, Ecology & Organismal Biology at The Ohio State University. He is also University Professorial Fellow, Charles Darwin University and Research Associate, Northern Territory Museum, Darwin, N.T., Australia.
He is a three- time winner of Fulbright Fellowships to Australia in 1969, 1979, 2009 and author of over 75 scientific papers and 6 books including:
Freshwater Fish Distribution (2007)
A Natural History of Australia (1998)
Evolution and the Myth of Creationism (1990)
Professor Berra received the Ph.D. in Biology from Tulane University in New Orleans, Louisiana in 1969.