

College of Nursing & Midwifery

Quarterly Newsletter

MARCH 2019

We are pleased to launch our first quarterly College e-newsletter. The College is entering an exciting growth phase as we welcome new students, develop new innovative teaching programs, engage in research and establish international partnerships. We want to share all the inspiring good news stories with you and keep you informed of College activities and future plans. If you are a student, alumni, clinical partner or a key stakeholder please join our CDU community to connect, discover and grow.

Professor Catherine Turner AM
College Dean

Top stories

EXPERT BOOST FOR NURSE PRACTITIONERS

Associate Professor of Nursing, Dr Haakan Strand is re-designing the Nurse Practitioner curriculum to ensure it meets the needs of key health system players. READ MORE

CDU DEVELOPING EXCHANGE PROGRAM IN HK

We have signed a Memorandum of Understanding with Hong Kong Polytechnic University (HKPU) to work together towards a student exchange program. READ MORE

RESEARCH TARGETS POST-STROKE MOTOR FUNCTION

RTP Stipend Scholarship recipient, Li-Qun Yao is in Darwin to focus on traditional exercise programs to improve motor function in post-stroke patients. READ MORE

SEMINAR TO ADDRESS NURSE FATIGUE, PATIENT SAFETY

US sleep expert, Professor Ann Rogers presented her paper on "Staff Nurse Fatigue and Patient Safety" at our monthly research seminar on 12 March. READ MORE

Appointments

Meet Assistant Dean Research
Suzanne Moore

Meet Associate Professor
Donna Hartz

Research

Acupressure research to help breast cancer patients

Global perspectives on midwifery

More news

Big welcome to new students for 2019

77 years on, BOD Sister de Mestre remembered

Susan Alberti AC, triumph over tragedy

Virtual nursing project

HESTA

Find out more

Please LIKE and  with colleagues and friends

<https://www.cdu.edu.au/nursing-midwifery>