

College of Nursing & Midwifery

Quarterly Newsletter

SEPTEMBER 2019

We have been incredibly busy within the College and I am pleased to announce a suite of new postgraduate programs ready for 2020 to meet the needs of our national alumni and industry partners. Our new Nurse Practitioner program in collaboration with NT Health is of particular importance for primary health care in regional and remote areas. Another exciting initiative is the development of masters programs in Aero-retrieval Medicine in collaboration with the National Critical Care and Trauma Response Centre based in Darwin. You can also read about our students' experiences on exchange in Hong Kong. We will keep sharing all the inspiring good news stories and future College plans. If you are a student, alumni, clinical partner or a key stakeholder please join our CDU community to connect, discover and grow.

Professor Catherine Turner AM
College Dean

Top stories

REDUCING PRETERM BIRTH

Co-designed maternity services reduce preterm birth for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander babies by almost 50 per cent in just four years.

READ MORE

CDU STUDENTS IN HK EXCHANGE

Three CDU Nursing students joined 70 students from around the world in a four-week Inbound Student Exchange Program in Hong Kong.

READ MORE

BALI MIDWIFERY PLACEMENT & RESEARCH

Midwifery lecturer and research project leader, Mpho Dube is breaking new ground with an innovative approach to international placements for students in Bali. READ MORE

CANCER CARE COORDINATORS

On Wednesday 11 September, Senior Lecturer in Nursing Dr Nasreena Waheed will present her paper on the experience of cancer care coordinators. READ MORE

Appointments

Meet Postgraduate Course Coordinator
Dr Jason Mills

Meet Adjunct Senior Lecturer
Paul Bell

Research

Virtual Reality Training Tools

Trans gender bias

More news

National Nursing Forum

Tips, Tricks & Tails Midwifery Conference

Post-graduate study

Advance your career with postgraduate study in Nursing and Midwifery

in good hands

HESTA

Please LIKE and  with colleagues and friends

<https://www.cdu.edu.au/nursing-midwifery>