

Health and Safety Committees

1. TITLE OF COMMITTEE

The University Health and Safety Committee (UHSC) and Local Area Health and Safety Committees (LHSCs).

2. ESTABLISHMENT

The Health and Safety Committees are established by the Council under Section 19 (1) of the Charles Darwin University Act 2003 and Part 5 - Consultation, representation and participation of the Work Health and Safety \(NUL\) Act 2011.

3. FUNCTIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

University Health and Safety Committee (UHSC)

The University Health and Safety Committee (UHSC) is a consultative committee that advises the Senior Executive Team (SET) on important health and safety matters for the University. The UHSC addresses broad aspects of work health and safety, that affect the whole University, or which lie outside the responsibility or resources of Local area Health and Safety Committees or the Manager Health, Safety and Environment.

The UHSC will:

- Facilitate co-operation between the University's management and workers by instigating and developing measures designed to ensure the health and safety of the University community.
- Monitor compliance with Work Health and Safety (WHS) legislation, safety management policy and procedures.
- Discuss health and safety issues or concerns raised by the LHSCs, Senior Executives or the Manager Health, Safety and Environment.
- Make recommendations to SET via VCAC on WHS programs, objectives and governing documents, and issue resolutions aimed at improving health and safety at the University.
- Review the WHS key performance indicators provided by the Manager Health, Safety and Environment.
- Recommend and assist in the development and implementation of initiatives aimed at improving health and safety throughout the University.
- Assist management in the development and implementation of an effective WHS management system and a proactive approach to WHS management across the University and all its operations.
- Assist management with ensuring that a uniform approach, based on best practice and continuous improvement, is adopted by the University and all its operations, to improve University compliance in all matters of WHS.
- Establish, at its discretion, sub-groups and ad hoc working parties to make recommendations to the UHSC on specific risk processes or topics.

- Perform any other functions prescribed by WHS legislation and as agreed between the University and the members of the UHSC.

Local area Health and Safety Committees (LHSCs)

The University has also established Local area Health and Safety Committees (LHSC). These local areas are as follows:

- Campus or location;
- College;
- Operational area;
- Research group.

LHSCs are consultative committees, that advise the Senior Executive Team (SET) via the UHSC on important health and safety matters for each local area. The LHSCs address aspects of work health and safety that affect that local area.

The LHSCs will:

- Facilitate co-operation between the local area management and workers by instigating and developing measures designed to ensure the health and safety of the University community.
- Monitor compliance with WHS legislation, safety management policy and procedures within their respective local area.
- Assist management with ensuring that a uniform WHS approach, based on best practice and continuous improvement is adopted by the University and all its operations, to improve compliance.
- Discuss health and safety issues or concerns raised by the workers, Senior Executives or the Manager Health, Safety and Environment.
- Make recommendations to UHSC on WHS programs, objectives, and governing documents.
- Review the WHS key performance indicators for the local area provided by the Manager Health, Safety and Environment.
- Recommend and assist in the development and implementation of local initiatives aimed at improving health and safety throughout the University, and particularly in their local area.
- Assist management in the development and implementation of an effective WHS management system and a proactive approach to WHS management across the University and all its operations.
- Establish, at its discretion, sub-groups and ad hoc working parties to make recommendations to the UHSC on specific risk processes or topics.
- Perform any other functions prescribed by WHS legislation and as agreed between UHSC and the members of the LHSC.

4. MEMBERSHIP

The committee must comprise representatives drawn from the various area units of the University where at least half of the members are workers not nominated by management.

Health and Safety Representatives (HSRs)

The University is not required, by legislation, to have Health and Safety Representatives (HSRs) unless a request is made by a worker. However, they can be involved with the specific health and safety issues relevant to the work group they represent. Health and safety representatives may choose to be members of the Health and Safety committee (but are not obliged to do so).

HSRs and deputy HSRs must be elected by members of the work group they will represent. The election process may be informal, for example with a show of hands. Alternatively, it may involve a more formal process such as the use of ballots.

If the number of candidates nominated for election equals the number of vacancies in the work group, the candidates are deemed to be 'elected' and there is no need to proceed with an election.
