

Learning Communities: International Journal of Learning in Social Contexts

ISSN 1329-1440 (online)

ISSN 2202-7904 (print)

Information for Peer Reviewers

Please annotate the paper using the Track Changes and New Comment functions (we will remove your identifying marks before forwarding to the corresponding author). If you prefer not to use Track Changes, please identify your annotations with your comments by the use of coloured text.

Please ensure your comments are limited to clear, direct and constructive criticism as the comments will be forwarded to the corresponding author. Your advice regarding publication must be based on these comments.

Review Guidelines

While reviewing the manuscript, please consider the following matters:

- a) Does the manuscript address a new or significant area of research, or build in a meaningful way on existing research?
- b) Are the paper's objectives clearly expressed? Are these objectives met?
- c) Does the manuscript adequately address matters such as methodology, ethical issues, data collection and analysis?
- d) Is the article methodologically sound?
- e) Are its arguments reasoned and logical?
- f) Are all tables and figures clearly presented? Do they contribute to the article's line of reasoning?
- g) Does the paper correctly acknowledge and reference its sources?
- h) Is the paper written in an appropriate academic style?
- i) Does the paper require extensive copy-editing to correct errors of spelling and grammar?

Peer review of the Learning Communities Journal is conducted according to the Peer Review clause in the Australian Code for Responsible Conduct of Research (<https://www.nhmrc.gov.au/guidelines-publications/r39>). Please familiarise yourself with the peer review section of the Code before conducting a review to ensure our high quality of research and research reviews.

If you have any queries about the review process, please do not hesitate to contact

Belinda Snell

Journal Coordinator

belinda.snell@cdu.edu.au

T. +61 8 8946 6153